

FIS Rules of Conduct für Skiers and Snowboarders

1. Consider others

Be considerate of others and behave in such a way as to not endanger or harm others on the slope.

2. Control of speed and way of skiing

Every skier has to adapt their speed and way of skiing to their abilities and the conditions of the terrain and the weather.

3. Choice of track

The skier coming from behind has to choose a track that does not endanger the skier in front of them.

4. Overtaking

It is permitted to overtake from above, beneath, right or left as long as you keep enough space for the other skier.

5. Entering, starting and moving upwards

Every skier entering a ski run, slope or traversing a ski terrain has to make sure that no one from above or beneath is at risk. The same applies to stopping.

6. Stopping on the slope

Every skier has to avoid stopping at narrow and unclear parts of a ski run or slope. A fallen skier has to clear their place as soon as possible.

7. Ascent and descent

The ascending skier may only use the edge of a slope. The same applies to skiers descending on foot.

8. Following the signs

Every skier has to follow the signs (markings and signposts) on the slopes.

9. How to behave in the event of an accident

In the event of an accident everyone is obliged to provide assistance.

10. Identification requirement

Every skier and snowboarder, regardless of being a witness or someone involved in the accident, has to give their personal information.
